

Valentine's Day Scavenger Hunt

To start the hunt for your Valentine's Treats, head to where you brush your teeth

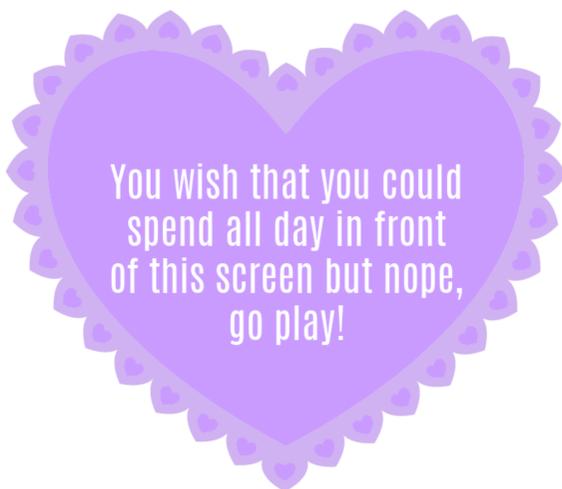

It's not where we wash our clothes that counts, but where they warm up and dry out

When mom is tired and tucked in bed, look under where she lays her head

Don't stop or you might lose a sock on this machine where you can walk

You wish that you could spend all day in front of this screen but nope, go play!

If you want to build then this is the place, but it's mostly made for trains to race

Trying to find your next clue? It's where we keep food cold, and milk too

Scrub-a-dub-dub and wash your hair, you'll find your Valentine's treats there!

You're finding clues, you'll be done soon, with the next clue you will see a spoon

Keep working together, you're not on your own. Stand on me to see if you've grown
